1. Introduction

The communist youth league is an advanced youth mass organization led by the communist party of China. It is also the bridge between the communist party of China and the youth. Facing the increase of the league members quantity and the enlargement of the league organization coverage, improve advancement of league members and enhance the cohesion and combat effectiveness of the Primary-level league organizations, strengthen educational practice "Learn General Secretary Xi's series speeches, be qualified league members" and advanced construction of league members has become the key task and normal work.

The educational practice of "Learn General Secretary Xi's series speeches, be qualified league members" is a significant action for studying General Secretary Xi's series speeches deeply. It is focus on developing the Party's career and promoting the reformation of the Communist Youth League. It can provide a more comprehensive platform for the advanced education of league member. We should give full play to the advanced role of the league members and do a good job of leading role models. To strengthen the ideological and political education of all members of the Communist Youth League and promote the party's theoretical work through the party's leadership, in order to make the ideological leadership, political leadership, and organizational leadership of the party are integrated into every aspect of the management of the Communist Youth League, to extend the ideological and political education for college students.

2. Problems Exist In The Educational Practice of "Learn General Secretary Xi's Series Speeches, Be Qualified League Members" And Advanced Construction of League Members

2.1. Primary-Level Organization Plays A Minor Role in some Universities

The college student league branch was established in the class. Some league branches could not effectively organize their own organizational structure of the Communist Party branch. They couldn't actively play the role in each Communist Youth League committee. At the same time, the consciousness of the Communist Youth League branch was not strong enough as a primary-level organization. The primary-level organizations not able to use the power of the organization to mobilize, managed educate members of the Communist Youth League branch. At present, some postgraduate league branches have caused a decrease in members of the League Committee, because most of the classmates in the class are Party members. The primary-level organizations of the League have problems with paying attention to activity and neglect the construction. In particular, the minority cadres and individual league organizations make light of the construction of primary-level organizations, and they are afraid of the difficulties during building primary-level organizations. They considered that building the primary-level organizations is difficult, and they deal with studying and construction tasks formally. Instead of solving the outstanding problems in the construction of the primary-level league organizations, they are enthusiastic about engaging in activities and building up their momentum, but the long-term plans for league building is lacked.

2.2. Some Members of College Students do Not Have Enough Awareness about Themselves

The consciousness of college student league members is determined not only by the nature of the group, but also by the practice of the members in the group's life and social life. Through investigations and visits, most of the college student team members can recognize the team member status means responsibility and advancement, but they often take ignoring attitudes toward other team members who do not meet the league member standards. The reason for this phenomenon is that the status quo of almost all the members of the college students makes many members do not really realize the identity of their own. Some college students think that the league members are the same with the general youth. Therefore, most of the problems existing in league members are left unchecked. They will not be reminded and helped correct the mistakes.

2.3. Volunteer Service Awareness of League Members Among College Students is in A Low Level

Volunteer service embodies the awareness of citizens' social responsibility. It is a vivid practice of people consciously serving others, the community and building a good life. It is an important symbol of the degree of civilization in modern society. Also, it is an effective way to advance the building of spiritual civilization in the new situation. With the development of social economic components, organizational forms, employment methods and distribution methods diversification, volunteer service activities of college students have also been affected to a certain extent. Some new problems have emerged among the members of the league. Firstly, the values of students have changed. They overemphasis on self, show emphasis on personal interests and light social contributions. Secondly, college student league members have the poor awareness of serving the people. To do work with material returns, it means pay attention to gains. Thirdly, college student members ignore some of the bad phenomena of serving the community, and even the imitation of bad behaviors has caused the image of the group organizations to gradually deteriorate in the minds of the people. Fourthly, the student college members have basically no sense of serving the comrades within the organization.

3. Solutions to Educational Practice of "Learn General Secretary Xi's Series Speeches, Be Qualified League Members" And Advanced Construction of League Members

3.1. Strengthen the Primary-level Organizational Construction of the Communist Youth League

Strengthen the construction of the League to make universities primary-level organizations play a role, give full play to the role of the Party organizations, in order to make the League construction is guided by Party construction. The advanced nature of party organizations should be played an important role to guide the construction of college league committees. Implementing the educational practice "Learn General Secretary Xi's series speeches, be qualified league members", fundamental systems of "three meeting, two systems and League lesson" and branch learning, in order to promote the organization of the League to be strict and practical. The "three meetings" should be held frequently, the "two systems" should be combined and keep the quality of League lesson. Strengthen the inspection and supervision of primary-level league organizations. At the same time, inviting the senior professors give group members lectures. In addition, we will train a group of high-quality comprehensive talents, pay attention to the selection and training of group leaders, organize student cadre training regularly and invite experienced teachers and excellent student leaders to share the valuable experience.

3.2. Strengthen the League Awareness among College Students

The consciousness of League members is the consciousness formed by the members on the concept that they are different from the general youth. It is the ideological foundation and the code of conduct for the members to play a vanguard role in group life and social activities. In the specific implementation process, effective practical thematic activities will be adopted to give full play to the combat effectiveness of the group so that the majority of college student league members will receive education, make contributions and develop abilities. At the same time, combining with submitting League fee and evaluating excellent membership, it could help with develop the consciousness of League members. Because the higher education rate was emphasized when the college student members were in high school, the organization of the League is formally. The construction of universities is better than that in middle school. Beyond that, it is easy for college students to accept new things. Therefore, university organizations can use network, email, electronic bulletin boards and other emerging scientific and technological methods to establish a prompt and effective communication channel and opinion feedback mechanism with college student league members, to achieve and expand the participation and management of college student league members in the affairs of league organizations. 3.3. Construct Voluntary Service Mechanism of League Organizations for College Student

Integrating the ideological and political education into volunteer activities, and improving the ideological and political work of college students. It must start with the daily education of college students, closely link with the growth reality of college students, and carry out social practices that suit the growth of college students and meet the characteristics of college students. Volunteer service activities are conducive to better helping college students establish a scientific and correct view of life, values, and world view, and to better guide college student league members to build awareness of members. Continuing to carry out school-based activities, it focuses on thematic activities to promote college student league members' self-cultivation. Showing league members' identities, and improving the cohesion of the Communist Youth League. We will insist to carry out off-campus practice with experiential activities as the main content, and strengthen college group members' training. Off-campus practice activities should focus on allowing college students to step out the paravirtualized campus activities, in order to help them understand people's sentiments, social conditions and national conditions deeply through diverse and extensive social practices. It also can strengthen the ability of college students to connect theories with practice, build college student league members' societies and develop their responsibility consciousness.

The league organization is supposed to do a good job in serving college student league members. The league organization is required to provide services timely and effective for the development of the college student league members, so that they can gain a certain amount of improvements in the organization. Additional, they can constantly enhance the sense of belonging about the Communist Youth League. Correspondingly, the league members are also more willing to play an exemplary vanguard role in the league organization and fully embody the advanced nature. They can continuously strengthen the centripetal force of the league organization and improve the attraction and cohesion of the youth league.

The secretary of the Communist Youth League branch is the leader of the Communist Youth League branch and is the main force for the implementation of all tasks. All tasks of the "one study and one practice" educational practice must be implemented in all members, and the "leader" of the Communist Party branch secretary must be seized. The grass-roots league branch took a closer look and urged the Communist Party branch secretary to implement "one study and one action" and effectively improve the advanced nature of the members. At the same time, strengthen the training of the Communist Party branch secretary, give full play to the role of the school's Party branch and the Communist Youth League's main position, improve the quality of the group class, organize the Communist Party branch secretary should know to learn, and strengthen the organization of the Communist Youth League secretary's micromanagement group and theme group day activities.
