

Students Participate in Library Management and Interaction

Ping Zhang
Dalian Nationalities University
Dalian, China

Abstract: College students, is the main university library readers, is the main target of library services and management, is a major component of library environment, is an important enabling factor of Library work, is one of the important driving forces which affect the development of library, play an important role in promoting the development of the library.

Keywords: College Library; Management and Interaction; Participate

1. Introduction

Library is an open, controlled social system which contains information resources, readers, staff, buildings and equipment, technical approach, organizational management, contact information. The reader and the staff is the one of the most dynamic and active elements in library system. College students, is the main university library readers, is the main target of library services and management, is a major component of library environment, is an important enabling factor of Library work, is one of the important driving forces which affect the development of library, play an important role in promoting the development of the library.

According to the Ministry of Education in 2002 promulgated the "General Academic Library Regulation (Amendment)" provides university library tasks fifth "actively participate in literature security system, the implementation of resources construction of knowledge, sharing, and promote the cause of the overall development. Carry out a variety of collaboration, cooperation and academic activities" requirement, the library has the responsibility to build the students' participation to build a platform for readers of library management.

2. The Students Participate in Library Management

University libraries should not only strengthen scientific management, improve service levels, satisfy the needs of readers, and should strengthen the link library and readers to support student participation library management, training for students to create the sense of participation, labor perspective, self-reliance environment that promotes school for qualified talents. The relationship between library and college students is not only a working relationship, service relationship, but they are also friends. Students are not only the object library services, but also the supervisor of library work and supporters. To truly become a university library readers' information center and an important base for educating people, not only through literature information security, information services and elegant environment, you should also pay attention to service object that readers especially students reader participation.

Students participate in library management, library services to improve the quality, improve the internal environment to maximize the use of existing information resources has a significant role in promoting, but also a different extent eased the pressure on the staff; conducive to strengthening library and communication between librarians and readers, close relationship between the library and readers to reach mutual understanding, improve their work, improve service quality, is an effective way to run a library door.

Readers actively learn library through various activities organized by the library

Library regularly organize cultural festivals such as readers, information and cultural festival, Reading Festival and various utilization training activities. Library activities organized by various readers are generally required to absorb some of the students involved in the planning and some of the activities of the organization. By participating in these activities, students can deepen the library to become familiar with various types of library resources to learn all kinds of library rules and regulations, to understand the importance of libraries. To become a truly library reader, it is necessary to involve in library management.

Readers participate in library management through readers organizations

Many university libraries establish various forms of readers societies such as Readers Association, the reader homes, management committees, through which readers tissue, allowing students to actively participate in the construction and service of the library to collect students' library construction and services comments and suggestions, and organized various activities readers to participate in various promotional activities library, libraries and readers in the gap between the mutual communication.

Through these organizations, both for libraries to understand the needs of students and library construction and management, lack of service work, and constantly improve and perfect the construction and service work, providing important information; also strengthened communication between the reader and the library enable students to better understand the content of library management and services, basic procedures, basic requirements, to enhance students' understanding of the work of the library;, but also for students to participate in library management and services to build a platform to enable students through participation in various readers activities, broaden their horizons, develop their own qualities. Readers participate in library management by participating in the reader forums,

To enhance the reader communication, advocacy and service work library management, library regularly or irregularly symposium organized by the reader. Through seminars, libraries can be more direct understanding of the reader needs to hear from readers and suggestions, and timely communication with readers, get the reader's understanding of library work, support and cooperation, and through the reader, library management measures and services promotion content; reader to understand through seminars library-related information, and actively communicate with the library, reflecting the needs of readers, comments and suggestions.

Questionnaire

Survey carried out in all kinds of libraries, the library literature resources to improve information services building and an important basis for literature. Readers actively participate in various editions survey, which truly reflects needs in the literature resource construction and literature information service and facilitates resource development libraries and readers' service work and be closer to readers' needs.

Establishing student supervisors or information officer

Some colleges and universities employ students to do library information obligations of supervisors or coordinators in order to supervise the work of the library and librarian service attitude, service quality. Library held regularly monitors student forum, solicit student opinions and suggestions of library work, student supervisors to listen to curator work report, the department director to answer any opinions and demands of the students to a variety of channels contact with readers, to learn the students' suggestions to continuously improve services.

3. The Students Participate in Library Services

3.1. Participate in Library Management Through Work-study

Work-study is to attract students to participate in university libraries library management and services of the basic forms. This form of training university students both labor of love and hard work good style, but also training students learn to use the library to find a library, and strengthen communication with readers an effective measure. Participate in work-study students through training, quickly understand and become familiar nature of library work, tasks and specific business content. This will not only enable students to quickly learn how to use various types of bibliographic databases, but also close relationships between libraries and students can communicate ideas, deepen understanding.

3.2. Participate in Public Welfare Activities Organized by Library

Some colleges and universities to take students to carry out community service organizations, without prejudice to the case study, to assist libraries to complete temporary work, such as a bookcase finishing, book repair, environmental finishing, to the school to save manpower, material resources; Meanwhile, the difficulty of the work library smaller, but also the teacher's guidance, but doing it more relaxed, student labor enthusiasm is high, only exercise the students' practical ability, but also improves the quality of students and enable them to practice in the future have a good mentality. Library is a place where students learn is closely related to, participate in charity work here, they will have a deeper experience, the actual effect is also good, only they can really enjoy the ups and downs of labor, sharing the joys and sorrows of labor, into go into labor, experience elegant hard-won learning environment in order to learn to cherish the fruits of labor of others.

3. Participate in Book Donations

When many students graduate, they will accompany their precious books to sell, or even thrown away, burned, it is a pity. In Germany, almost every newborn with textbooks are old, but it is intact, and students graduate of the textbook finished pieces donated to the library or the lower grades of the students, this is a fine tradition, a species good idea. Libraries are also ready to accept long-term readers of donated books, the main purpose is to train the reader to build awareness and love for his alma mater, alma mater concerned the construction and development of consciousness.

Readers involve in library management and services, expanding the library of educational functions to promote the library from the traditional to the modern type of function transformation, in line with the policy of further reform and development of the internal library requirements. As readers become the main library management work for the library development and growth, adding fresh blood and vital forces, and in the gap between the library and readers a bridge to communicate with each other. Readers involved in library management and the role of the information dissemination will be more fully exploited, and thus play a greater role in promoting the spiritual civilization construction of college.

References

- [1] BaoJiasheng. Modern Library Building Design [M]. Beijing: Chinese Building Industry Press, 2002.
- [2] Cao Ronggui. Hospital Management. Information Management Volume[M]. Beijing: People's Health Publishing House, 2003.

