

Analysis on the Mechanism of the Role of the Party Branch of the College Students

Qingying Pan

Southwest University of Political Science and Law, Chongqing, 401120, China

Abstract: The Party branch of college students, which as a grass-roots organization plays a key role in the development of the whole system of Party building and the progress of higher education in Colleges and universities. It is the front position of Ideological and political education in Colleges and universities, it is a battle fortress for service management, it is also an important bridge linking Party organizations with ordinary college students and an important starting point for stabilizing colleges and universities. This paper systematically summarizes the specific role of student Party branch in the process of university management, and further discusses the mechanism structure of the role of college student Party branch.

Keywords: The Party branch of college students; Analysis of the function; Bring into play the mechanism

1. Introduction

In the large system of Party organization construction and management in Colleges and universities, the role of the student Party branch is very important. It is also the breakthrough point for every specific work and the bridgehead for policy guidelines. The details of the party's development, construction and management should be put into practice. In order to keep the fresh driving force of the party organization and keep pace with the times, we must give full play to the dynamic role of the student Party branch of the University, and fully study the mechanism of the role played by the university student branch.

2. Analysis on the Role of the Party Branch of College Students

In the premise of fully affirmed the important role of the college student Party branch in the Party Construction in Colleges and universities, combined with the analysis of special and important discussion of college party construction of our party on the construction of Party organization specific tasks, task and role of college student Party branch can be divided into the following aspects:

2.1. The frontiers of ideological and political education

In every aspect of the development of higher education, educators should first remember that the cause of higher education is to cultivate builders and successors of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Besides carrying out research and dissemination of professional knowledge, culture and skills in various fields, colleges and universities should also carry out ideological and political education for college students consciously and systematically.

This is the prerequisite for the continuous development of our country's education, and it is also a clear requirement for various educational regulations in China. The Central Document No. 16 clearly stipulates: "innovate the activities of the student Party branch, enrich the content of activities, enhance cohesion and combat effectiveness, and make it a strong fortress for ideological and political education".

In the ideological and political education system, because of the advanced nature of student party members and Party organizations, also because of the students are closely connected and the activities of the various initiative advantage, which undoubtedly makes the grass-roots party organization of students become the frontier of ideological and political education. Through the student party organization, we can publicize and clarify the party's line, policies and policies in detail, and effectively implement the specific resolutions of the party organizations at all levels. Student party organizations can carry out various types of activities, and deeply discuss and inspire contemporary college students' correct understanding of Ideological and political topics, which plays a leading role in education.

2.2. Education service for non-party members

"China Ministry of education on strengthening the construction of grass-roots party organizations in Colleges and universities opinions" clearly refers to the work of the grassroots party organizations to make contact and serve the masses. The foundation of student Party branch's service objects and activities is absolutely not limited to the activists who join the party, the objects of investigation and the party members of university students. Instead, the influence of the party branches should be radiated to the whole student group, even to every individual of contemporary college students. In addition to the education, management and inspection of Party members and students, the student Party branch of universities needs active participation in education, service and management of all the affairs of college students. On the one hand, by carrying out a series of patriotic and red theme education, the student Party branch can guide contemporary college students to establish the correct outlook on life, values and world outlook through the power of peer education. By combing the example and enriching the interaction, the college students are further called on to recognize the historical mission and actively join the Communist Party of China. On the other hand, carrying out the concrete work of contacting the masses at the grass-roots level can enhance the sense of honor and self-confidence of college student party members, and further strengthen the cohesion of grass-roots party organizations. Finally, the increasing number of college student party members has become an important resource that cannot be ignored in the work of Party building in Colleges and universities. They play a very important role in student groups, which become effective starting point to promote the party building and promote the construction of the class atmosphere. It can be said that the Party branch of college students plays a very important role among the work of students, the construction of the party organization and the management of the party.

2.3. An important bridge between the party organization and the College Students

“The Communist Party of China General Institutions of higher learning grassroots organization work regulations” stipulate that the Party branch committee should listen to the opinions and suggestions of the party members and the masses, understand and analyze the ideological trend of teachers and students, and finally do well in Ideological and political work. It can be seen that as the primary organization of the party, the Party branch of college students has actually become an important bridge between the joint party organization and the ordinary college students. On the one hand, the student branch policy should be adopted to Party organization and other forms to learning, discussion and propaganda the party and the fundamental policy. It became the propaganda position of the party organizations to go deep into the students. On the other hand, college student party branches and their members should be widely heard by the students, and timely feedback all kinds of advice and doubts. So that the party organizations at all levels in universities can accurately grasp the reality, and also understand the practical difficulties of students. The most important thing is to perfect relevant rules and regulations and carry out relevant measures in time. The two-way communication makes the information channel smooth and the opinion is consistent, which is an important channel for the university party organization to carry out the work among the students.

2.4. Key gripper for stable work in Colleges and Universities

In the new period, the social and economic environment is further complicated, and the situation at home and abroad has been developing constantly. These have brought new challenges to the stable work of colleges and universities. This sensitive task requires not only a firm determination, but also an excellent ability to work and a subtle skill in promoting work. In practice, it is necessary for colleges and universities to mobilize all forces to actively maintain the stability and security of colleges and universities. As a basic student organization that can be trusted, the Party branch of the student party has become the key grasp of the stability of the University. The student Party branch is more capable of dealing with problems after finding problems, and actively educating and guiding students' groups and doing well in emotional stability and order management in a specific situation. The student Party branch is the information station in the course of the development of the University's stability, and it is also the key grasp of the stability situation.

3. Analysis on the Mechanism of the Role of the Party Branch of the College Students

After combing the role of college student Party branch in the development of Party building and education in Colleges and universities, we need to further discuss and pay attention to how to maximize these functions through the design of the system. After carefully examining the rule of university management and party organization construction, it is found that the following aspects should be paid attention to in constructing the mechanism of student Party branch's role in Colleges and universities.

3.1. The student branch should be set up on the basis of grade

Although the specific situations of students from different majors differ widely, the development of Party members is not synchronous. However, it is more scientific and reasonable to set up student branches in grades rather than professional or more detailed classes. First of all, the student branch is set up in the grade, which is more conducive to the effective activities of the students in different stages of development. The students' branch which has undertaken the ideological and political education and management service should have such sensitivity. Therefore, the branch in the grade has a natural advantage.

Secondly, according to the work requirements of the Central Committee and the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China, the establishment of the Party branch in grade is more conducive to the party building and the League building. In the grass-roots work practice, according to the specific requirements of "fundamental construction and key belt", the establishment of Party branches in grades is conducive to the overall layout of the League building work in the stage, and this mission organization has become an integral part of the grass-roots party building work. The basic party organizations, which is more conducive to effectively strengthen the grass-roots party organization of the Communist Youth League and the Youth League's guide. The two grass-roots organizations should keep fresh vitality, and jointly guide more and more young college students. Finally, we will finish the work pattern of "party building and League building, and the development of the Communist Party and the Communist Party".

3.2. Establishing the democratic management mechanism of the student party members

Contemporary college students have notable development characteristics such as active thinking, individual rights and rich information channels, which brings new challenges to ideological and political education. As the backbone and representative of the contemporary youth, the student party members have these remarkable characteristics as well. On them we can find the characteristics of ideological progress, firm belief and extensive reading, serious thinking, and so on. Therefore, in the specific management of student party members, we need a more scientific way of work and pursue reasonable and optimized work arrangements, so that the student party members in the new era will truly convince themselves instead of simply following the organizational dignity. We should truly realize individual equality and mutual respect among all the links of grass-roots student party organizations from activities to decision-making development, and really attach importance to the opinion expression of Party members.

Specifically, the students' active proportion should be strengthened in the daily work of the student Party branch. This makes the student party members who have been developed, educated and tested to participate in the management of grade affairs in varying degrees. This makes the sound of the student's branch gradually become the new core of grade management in the whole work of the grade, and it has also become an effective supplement to the management of grade teachers. This is not only more conducive to the establishment of a typical role of the student party members, but also to fully mobilize the enthusiasm and centripetal force of all the students. Especially in the specific investigation and selection of the active members of the party and the object of development. The selection of outstanding Party members and other key problems in the development of the branch management must avoid the decision of the Party branch secretary and the grade teacher. Student party members should fully discuss common decisions through scientific and standardized democratic management.

3.3. Further perfecting the work evaluation system of the students' Party branch

For the grassroots student branches in Colleges and universities, besides having clear tasks and specific process control, it is also important to have a sound and progressive work evaluation system. Because the university party building work involves a wide range of concerns, policies and regulations issued by the high density of the specific characteristics of the construction of College Students Party branch work evaluation system should be more perfect and complete from pay attention to important points, reflecting the accuracy of grassroots party branches in the specific work and initiative.

It is necessary to consider the following principles to improve the work evaluation system of the Party branch of college students: First, the work evaluation system of the grass-roots Party branch must respond to the core position of the Party committee of the higher schools, and reflect the close combination of the Party Committee decision and the work of the students. Second, the work evaluation system of the grass-roots Party branch should set up a clear and complete examination method. Second, the work evaluation system of the grass-roots Party branch should set up a clear and complete examination method. In form, long term assessment, periodic assessment and single task assessment should be combined. On the content, the key index is combined with the routine project inspection. In the operation, self-evaluation, mutual evaluation, higher organization examination and mass opinion investigation are combined. Third, the work evaluation system of the grass-roots Party branch should strengthen the targeted inspection of the grass-roots branch of the college students. The individual party members of different colleges, different majors and different grades have the particularity. Study of College Students Party branch must further distinguish personality based on common attention, and respect the actual situation and the specific law can truly achieve incentive effect for promoting the development of the final assessment, but also try to avoid the neglect of individual organizations of the law of the development of "a knife" type evaluation.

References

- [1] Guohou Miao, Wang Shibai. A brief discussion on the problems existing in the role of the students' Party branch and the path to realize [J]. Xiang Chao monthly, 2011 (04):23-24.
- [2] Liu Jingli. Research on the role of Party members and Party branches in the new situation [J]. Theory of learning, 2014 (13): 159-160.

-
- [3] Guohou Miao, Su jie. Study on the role of the Party branch of college students to play the Countermeasures Research [J]. Theory of learning, 2011 (07): 191-192.
- [4] Chen Kaiming, Wang Shibai. The significance, present situation and Countermeasures of the role of the Party branch of college students [J]. Everybody, 2011 (20): 87-88.
- [5] Wei Jingxiang, Xie Xiuzhen. The present situation and function of Party branch construction of college students [J]. Shandong youth, 2016 (4): 35-36.