

A Research on the Chinese Elements of "Curriculum thought and Politics" in College English

Wei Liu

Nanjing University of Finance & Economics, Nanjing, 210023, China

Abstract: Under the influence of the trend of globalization, English has become a necessary language tool for the public to conduct international communication and cultural transmission, and the role of college English in the field of education is becoming more and more prominent. At the same time, As one of the four ancient civilizations, China's 5,000-year history of development has accumulated profound and splendid cultural deposits and shaped the treasures of The Times from generation to generation. It has become the main task of the present era to strengthen ideological and political education and train high quality talents with both political and political integrity. Starting from the exploration of Chinese elements, this paper deeply analyzes the infiltration effect of curriculum ideological and political education in college English curriculum, organically combines college English with ideological and political education, and plays an important role in promoting the development of talent cultivation and education in China.

Keywords: College English; Curriculum thought and politics; Chinese elements

1. Introduction

With the continuous improvement of China's economic development capacity and the degree of civilization and openness, the acceleration of the social process and the deepening of foreign culture in people's lives, China's society and education are also constantly meeting new thoughts and new challenges. At present, promoting people to establish firm cultural consciousness and cultural confidence in the impact of various cultures has become the central task in the new era. At the same time, our country is in a stage of social transformation. It is also an important task of the times to integrate the ideological and political education with college English education, which is centered on cultivating people with morality, effectively integrate the excellent cultural connotation of China into college English classes, and actively inject "fresh water" into the system, mode, practice and communication path of China's education.

2. An Overview of Curriculum Thought and Politics in College English

Driven by internationalization and economic globalization, the scope and application of English have been gradually expanded, and The English education in colleges and universities has been further improved and rebuilt. English education supports the communication and application of individuals and also promotes the political and economic activities between countries. Good English education can help students enhance their broad international vision, specialized international knowledge and skills, strong intercultural communication ability and high humanistic quality, which is an important course to promote students' comprehensive and healthy development.

In view of the current development of English education in colleges and universities in China, certain innovations and breakthroughs have been made in the forms and methods of education. For example, the traditional "spoon-feeding" teaching method will be transformed into an open teaching method, and the single oral teaching mode will be transformed into a mixed online and offline teaching mode. However, in terms of teaching content, it still remains in the single transfer of English learning skills and learning methods, and fails to make substantive changes and breakthroughs in the teaching practice of college English "curriculum thought and politics". There is a disconnection between students' English proficiency and their ideological, political and cultural self-restraint, which is insufficient in the input of this kind of hidden culture education. General Secretary Xi Jinping once stressed at the conference that we should take moral education as the central link and integrate ideological and political work into the whole process of education and teaching. To infiltrate the cultural connotation of ideological and political education into the educational work of various disciplines in colleges and universities is a new understanding of China's current development situation. As an important tool for international exchange and communication, strengthening the integration of college English and ideological and political education is conducive to cultivating young people with both national vision and national feelings in the new era.

3. The Two-Way Relationship between Curriculum Thought and Politics in College English

3.1. The transfer effect of College English on ideological and political Connotation

China is one of the few countries in the world that has maintained its vigorous vitality through the polishing and circulation of history. The long cultural history has accumulated profound ideological and political education connotation for Our country, and has enlightened and guided the Chinese children step by step to a higher ladder of life. The classroom teaching method of "curriculum thinking and politics" in college English has achieved the improvement of students' English knowledge learning and moral quality. Through classroom teaching content, teaching methods and teachers' teaching quality, a more complete teaching form is created for students' English class, and the cultural concept and spirit with Chinese elements are integrated with students through various ways. At the same time, English is a bridge connecting China and the mainland of the world. Students who have been influenced by Excellent Ideological and political culture of China and have profound knowledge of English application will inevitably transfer the cultural connotation with Chinese elements to a larger cultural basin, so as to realize cultural communication and cultural integration. College English "curriculum thought and politics" is a very important practical content in the field of education in China. Through fixed teaching courses, expanding the scope of ideological and political education, it further realizes the respect and development of excellent traditional culture, and spreads and practices the education concept of "cultivating people with moral standing". And communicate in the language of the world, spread the outstanding character of Chinese culture as well as time inspired the Chinese people's home country feelings, enhance their cultural confidence and cultural education, also let Chinese people know, know in our country countryside, reasonable, know the humble life style further towards the world, college English education "courses" achieved excellent culture spread value and education purpose, education for me provides important intellectual support for career development.

3.2. The infiltration effect of ideology and politics on college English

Back in ancient times, ideology and politics have always occupied an important position in the education system, and played an important role in establishing morality and educating people. Moral education is an important part of our ideological and political education, and it is also the education mode that can best embody Chinese elements. It is of great practical significance to guide people's behavior norms and accelerate the construction of a harmonious society. General Secretary Xi Jinping has also pointed out that the ideological and political connotation centering on morality and educating people should be carried through the whole process of various courses. As an important subject in China's education system, College English plays an irreplaceable role in cultivating students' language competence and communication skills. The infiltration of ideological and political culture into college English teaching is an important driving force to improve personal development, promote social harmony, and build national culture. It also plays an important role in accelerating the construction of Chinese spiritual civilization. To thoroughly implement the implicit influence of "curriculum thought and politics" in college English teaching and put the concept of cultivating students with moral education into college English teaching practice is conducive to creating a stable and healthy teaching environment and learning atmosphere. At the same time, it can enhance the influence of ideological, political and cultural connotation in the process of input and output of college English teaching, and improve students' personal cultural accomplishment, cultural confidence and cultural consciousness. With the continuous development and evolution of the society, Chinese and Western cultures collide with each other. In the teaching process of college English course, we should establish a firm and excellent cultural idea and spirit, strengthen our own cultural firmness, and move towards the international stage with good moral cultivation.

4. The Realization Path of "Curriculum Thinking and politics" in College English

4.1. Highlight the theme and promote the theoretical construction of "curriculum ideology and politics" in College English

The course of ideological and political education runs through every individual education, from ideological and political morality to ideological and political education, all of which reflect the important role and influence of ideological and political education in the process of our individual development. College English education "courses" teaching philosophy embodies the education not only attaches great importance to the cultivation of professional talents in our country, also attaches great importance to cultivate the students' outlook on life, values, world view and the good thought personal character accomplishment, let them improve understanding things in the field of professional vision and highly, guide the right value judgments and value choice. The teaching concept of "curriculum thinking and politics" in college

English is embodied in the dual role of thought and behavior, namely, internalization in the heart and externalization in the form, which is also an important manifestation of carrying out the concept of cultivating people by virtue. To realize the teaching concept of "curriculum thought and politics" in college English, a perfect theoretical system and teaching system must be established. It is necessary to change the educational material, teaching mode and teaching atmosphere of college English to some extent. In college English teaching materials, we should appropriately add some materials of outstanding cultural achievements and political theories in China, and realize moral guidance and enlightenment as well as the cultivation of political theoretical literacy through the learning of English knowledge, which is the theme of the educational concept of "curriculum ideology and politics" in college English. Therefore, we should constantly promote the construction of college English curriculum ideological and political theory, strengthen the penetration and education of political theory, ideological and moral quality, scientific and cultural quality, promote the all-round development of contemporary college students, and cultivate high-quality talents with high professional level and profound cultural accomplishment.

4.2. To promote the moral education atmosphere in college English classes

The teaching concept of "curriculum thinking and politics" in college English aims at spreading and learning excellent moral character through multiple educational approaches. The first embodiment of "curriculum thinking and politics" is to guide students' value judgment and value choice, emphasizing the student-oriented teaching purpose. Since the 16th National Congress of the Communist Party of China (CPC), the concept of cultivating talents with morality as the core has been gradually integrated with each major educational industry in China. Therefore, under the teaching background of "curriculum thought and politics", in order to improve the innovative development of college English "curriculum thought and politics", we must attach importance to the moral education in colleges and universities, combine "speech and preaching" with "teaching by example", and combine thoughts and behaviors to establish a perfect moral education system. First of all, teachers should set an example, pay attention to their own words and deeds and moral cultivation, strengthen the construction of teachers' style and ethics, enhance teachers' sense of responsibility and sense of honor, and play a role in ideological and political education while disseminating cultural knowledge for students. Secondly, a good moral education cultural environment should be established, such as carrying out English red song contest, telling Chinese stories well in English, commendation of moral education star and other activities. Through certain cultural environment edification, college English classes will not only be more interesting and efficient, but also realize the goal of ideological and political education to a certain extent. The educational concept of "curriculum thought and politics" in College English has shaped perfect ideological concepts, political viewpoints and moral norms, and to some extent, improved students' ideological height and self-cognition, and realized the cultivation of education objective and professional level of moral education.

4.3. Transform the output and improve the stereoscopic effect of college English "curriculum thought and politics"

Different cultural forms and prevailing micro-culture make it gradually penetrate into students' lives in a subtle, fragmented and instantaneous way of sharing. The educational concept of "curriculum thinking and politics" in college English should not only achieve ideological resonance by giving full play to the outstanding cultural deeds of our country, but also realize the goal of moral education through the real-time outstanding deeds in the contemporary society. The extensive use of information network not only enriches people's way of life, but also draws the distance between people. The realistic value of "curriculum thought and politics" comes from the evaluation and reflection on society and self. Therefore, under the background of "curriculum thought and politics", the exploration of Chinese elements in college English should always grasp the teaching materials of curriculum. In the information age, people around the world are using a variety of software to record their lives and share the good things, good things, happy things and ugly things around them. Therefore, under the educational concept of "curriculum thought and politics" in college English, educational videos or films from all over the world are added to the class for students. Through cosmopolitan language form, guide people phenomenon appears in the visual reflection and comprehension, and through the media in the fragments of time complete rendering of events, make the individual to carry on the comprehension and reflection, continuously in the receive to shaping and development of the individual spiritual world, promote personal life value and significance, strengthen ideological education reality, improve the ideological education in the new situation of stereo effect, also makes the college English education "courses" education philosophy be effectively implemented.

5. Conclusion

The educational concept of "curriculum thought and politics" in College English not only adheres to the people-oriented development strategy, but also adopts effective approaches and methods to realize the comprehensive education and cultivation of talents, so as to shape, inspire and develop students more comprehensively and completely. "Cultivating people by virtue" is the core of China's traditional cultural education, the original intention and mission of education, and the most cultural connotation with Chinese elements. College English curriculum thought and politics not only carry forward China's excellent moral education concept, but also cultivate students' professional cultural knowledge, so that generations of Chinese sons and daughters can further realize comprehensive development in theory and practice, and play an important role in promoting and applying the development of China's educational cause and the realization of China's educational power.

References

- [1] Ziyue Wang, Xiuming Chen. A preliminary study on ideological and political teaching design of college English curriculum under mixed teaching mode. Education and Teaching Forum. 2020, 474, 60-61.
- [2] Lingling Ren. Research on college English interactive teaching mode under the background of "Curriculum ideological and political" education concept. China New Communications. 2020, 22, 201.
- [3] Yan Liu, In novative research on college English teachers' "Ideological and political development" in the context of curriculum ideological and political construction. Journal of Liaoning University of Science and Technology. 2020, 95(22), 95-96.
- [4] Xixia Wang. Exploration of the ideological and political teaching mode of college English curriculum in the context of the new socialist era. Education and Teaching Forum. 2020, 472, 86-87.